Pomegranate Production and Consumer

Analysis

Zhengfei Guan, Lisa House, Feng Wu, Armand Kaplanni

Gulf Coast Research and Education Center

Outline

- Production Analysis
- Tasting Test
- Consumer Behavior

Production Costs and Practices

- Designed Questionnaire

Production Costs and Practices

- Purpose: collect production information and cost data to analyze economic feasibility
- Information Collected:
- General information: orchard size, cultivar, planting density, # of trees, age of trees, etc.
- Practices and costs: planting, irrigation, pruning, fertilization, and weed management

Production Costs and Practices

- Method: grower interview
- Visited orchards, ranging from newly established to mature orchards over-3-years

Production Costs and Practices

- Planting: Tree spacing:12 feet $\times 18$ feet
- # of trees per acre: about 200
- Trees (one-gallon pot):~$8-$15*
- Trees (three-gallon pot): ~$15-30
-4 ' wide pine mulch(about $$ 3 / b a g)$

Production Costs and Practices

- Irrigation
- Drip emitter or micro sprinkler
- Frequency: 2-3times/week for ${ }^{\sim} 1 \mathrm{hr}$, don’t overly irrigate
- Micro sprinklers: $800/acre
- Installment labor cost: $400/acre.

Production Costs and Practices

- Fertilization
- 82 lb nitrogen, $300 \mathrm{lb} 8-6-8$ fertilizer, and $224 \mathrm{lb} 10-$ 10-10 fertilizer for more-than-3-year trees
- Foliar micronutrients applied monthly
- Cost of fertilization: $162/acre

Production Costs and Practices

- Pruning
- Pruning frequency depends on:
- Trained as bushes (less pruning)
- Trained as single-trunk trees
- For a more-than-3-years grove, regular pruning each year
- 11 hours labor per acre in Summer
- 32 hours labor per acre in Spring
- 48 hours labor per acre in Winter
- Total labor costs: about $722

Production Costs and Practices

- Weed management
- The weed-free zone is sprayed 2 to 3 times each year- March, June, and October
- Herbicide rotation: Roundup ${ }^{\circledR}$, Poast ${ }^{\oplus}$ mixed with Surflan ${ }^{\oplus}$, Gramoxone ${ }^{\oplus}$ mixed with Fusillade ${ }^{\oplus}$ and Aim ${ }^{\circledR}$
- Estimated cost was $$ 146 /$ acre
